Schedule a 10-minute Q&A with Kim Burns to learn more about the community and how you can become a part of it.

Do you want to:

- feel more confident at work?
- be in community with other badasses in higher ed juggling the demands of administration, family, and personal responsibilities?
- celebrate progress rather than perfection?
- be a change agent so higher ed can realize its potential?

In the 26 years I served as a college administrator, I found myself wishing my life away more often than I would like to admit.

"If I can only get through this [presentation, meeting, pile of emails, week - you name it], then I will feel less overwhelmed."

Guess what? The minute I finished what was in front of me, something else was right around the corner. I often felt alone in this struggle and experienced self-doubt. Together in this community, we'll discuss how to leverage our inner resources and external supports to experience greater confidence, calm, and clarity and show up as the authentic leaders our colleges need.
